

Why a Renal Network? The numbers speak for themselves.....

Ten to twenty million people in the U.S. are in some stage of chronic kidney disease. Today nearly 400,000 are receiving treatment for End Stage Renal Disease (ESRD). The diagnosis of ESRD requires the individual to seek some type of dialysis treatment as a life sustaining measure. Dialysis treatments create annual medical costs in excess of Twenty-Five Billion Dollars ($25,000,000,000).

Why the Wellington Renal Program:

WHG understands the dialysis industry and the strain placed upon the Healthcare Dollar by Dialysis cost

WHG has direct contracts:
